CLASS SONG

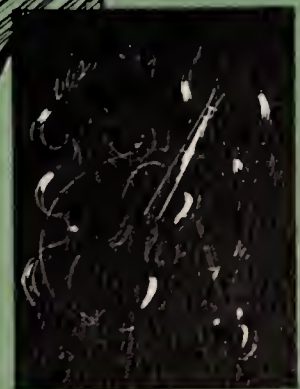

The Freshman Dance, the Turkey Trot,
 The High School boys who stole our hearts,
 We'll have these Moments to Remember.

The Junior Prom, The Senior Ball,
 Streamers hung around the hall,
 We'll have these Moments to Remember.

The summer turns to winter,
 And the years will fade away,
 We always will remember our cherished
 High School Days.

The Senior Trip, we all had fun,
 And now our High School Days are done,
 We'll have these Moments to Remember.

Class History

Freshman year---September 1953 - 54.

Election of class officers was the first thing we did.

Our officers were: William Maus, president; Joseph Gavasso, vice-president; Noella Renaud, secretary; and Alice Laprade, treasurer. Our Student Council members were Marcia Fortin and Carlton Taft. Our class advisors were Mr. Conlan and Mr. Flynn.

Initiation day came quickly. Remember how funny we looked and how scared we felt when we saw the fun-loving Seniors that morning? The day was full of surprises and we were all sorry to see it end. That night, we were given a dance. A good time was had by every one who attended.

Our biggest money-making event was the Valentine Dance, a success. We put the money in the treasury with hopes that in three years we would go to Washington.

With the aid of homework, Friday night dances, and basketball games, the year ended quickly. June came and we all went to Nantasket on our annual school outing. We were sorry to see the Seniors become alumni, but happy to have reached another step in attaining our goal.

Sophomore year---September 1954 - 55.

With Mrs. Kelley as our class advisor, elections were again held and the officers chosen were: William Maus, president; Willis Godin, vice-president; Noella Renaud, secretary; and Elaine Fagan, treasurer. Student Council members were Janet Poirier and Donald Jerrett.

Thanksgiving came quickly and we held our Thanksgiving Dance, "The Turkey Trot". This was the only money - making event of the year. However, we also had three other class get-to-gethers.

In February, our Sophomore Banquet was held at the Club Embassy. Remember the wonderful chicken dinner and the fun we had that evening. A few months later we had another get-together at Spring Lake Beach---what a long ride that was. Spring Lake was never so far away. Those hot dogs and hamburgers we had were delicious, though. Within the next few months we took our trip to Nantasket and then another year and another Senior class were gone.

Junior year---September 1955 - 56.

Election of officers again was first on the agenda. Officers chosen were: William Maus, president; Lorraine Lizotte, vice-president; Noella Renaud, Secretary; Elaine Fagan, treasurer. Student Council members were Janet Poirier and Edgar Lavallee.

The first important thing of that year was the selection of our class rings. However, even more important to us was receiving them for Christmas.

During the year we held the annual Halloween Dance with all the ghostly little surprises in the back room. Our Junior Prom was next. This was quite a change from the Halloween Dance.

Our Junior Prom was the biggest and long-awaited event. Soliciting and decorating was greatly enjoyed, even if the

We had begun working on the yearbook in January. William Maus was elected Editor-in-Chief of the Yearbook Staff. The yearbook was quite a task but we finally finished it in time.

Now we are reliving all these four years in a few hours. Last night we enjoyed ourselves at the Meadows; today, is our class day and tomorrow is our last class trip to Nantasket. Thursday evening is graduation with all its tears and smiles. Last, but probably the most remembered, is the last formal of our high school years, the Commencement Ball, with its beautiful colors and dreamy music.

We enjoyed every minute of every year that we have had. The work that we did have to do was well worth the trouble. We also appreciate all the aid and co-operation the people of the town, faculty of the high school, and all the students gave us in order to make these four years a memorable one to each and every one of us.

Prophecy

As we sit here gazing at the newly decorated Lenox Dining Hall, we realize all the time it took to plan the setting for the room. That is, Patricia Brunetti and I, Janet Poirier, did all the interior decorating. Right after graduation we left for New York, and New York's School of Interior Decorating. Now that the Dining Hall is finally ready, the first social event to be held here is the reunion of the Senior Class of 1957.

It seems like such a short time back that it is hard to believe that many of our gang, the Class of '57, have not seen each other since the night of our graduation.

Now we are ready to become a class once again.

Well don't look now, but the first guest to arrive is our former Class President, William Maus. He is now a successful engineer and governor-candidate of Massachusetts. We at one time, would have been his enemy for calling him (by that so called name) "William", but he knows that it is more dignified for his work. He is certainly someone we can be proud of.

The second of our guests to arrive is our former class secretary, Noella Renaud. She is now working for the F.B.I. as a private secretary. Her experience as the secretary of our class for four years has helped her out tremendously in her present-day job.

Robert Bernier who has just walked in, tells us that he is now employed at Logan International Airport as head Aeronautical Engineer. After high school Bob joined the U.S. Air Force; this experience paved his way to engineering.

I see that Pat is over at the door greeting two other members of our class. They are Leif Anderson, who is pilot of the I.A.P. Plane, which is owned by him; and Joan Marzetta who replaced Leif's stewardess for this trip only. Leif flew many of our class members back to Bellingham for this reunion. Joan tells us that she is working as a surgical nurse at Be-Be Hospital in South Africa and just adores her work.

Carol LaRose who just flew in from Hollywood where she is working as a hair-stylist, has informed me that she has done the styling of many famous movie stars. Her latest work was for Natalie Wood in MGM's "The Girl He Left Behind".

Over at the far end of the hall, I see three very nice people who seem to be enjoying themselves tremendously. They are Estelle Racine, Georgette Trudeau, and Madeleine Gauthier. Estelle is working as a private secretary for the Lanex Chemical Company, and is up for a promotion as president of the firm. She has been working there since she was a Junior in high school. Georgette, the shorthand whiz, is now Medical Secretary for Dr. Grossenhymer, the well-known horse doctor. She says Germany is a fine place to work. Madeleine is still holding on to the job she got when she was a Senior in high school. She is the private secretary to the president of the New England Rug Works. I hear tell that books are kept her own special way.

I see Elaine Fagan has just walked in. Elaine has just informed me that she has just come back from a trip around the world, and that she has just been chosen the best children's nurse of the year. She said that it was not only fun, but very helpful in other ways and can't wait to get back to work to start planning a new project.

In the far corner of the room, I see that Pat is talking to the four teachers that our class reproduced: Willis Godin, Lorraine Lizotte, Andree Lefebvre, and Barbara Betsch. Willy is now principal of the new Bellingham High School, which was recently dedicated to our former class advisor, Mr. Conlan. Lorraine and Andree teach at the high school. Their subjects are History and English respectively. Barbara now teaches at the new Bellingham Elementary School. She has been recently appointed principal of that school. Now they can see the difficult situations that teachers have to face.

Helen Lanowy has become one of the most prominent citizens of Bellingham. If Mr. Conlan could only have foretold the future eleven years ago when we were in his U.S. History class, he would have seen Helen as one of the voters who had helped bring to our town the new elementary school and high school.

Look Jan, here comes Maurice Dalpe. Do you remember what a whiz Moe was in bookkeeping? Well, he has used his bookkeeping ability to earn himself a living. Maurice has become a Certified Public Accountant. Right now, he is employed by General Electric which is located in Bellingham.

Everyone's eyes are now turned towards Joseph Gavasso. His business keeps him pretty busy. Joe has opened up one of the largest garages in the state where he is the chief mechanic. He is building an addition to the garage. It will be a five-story parking lot. I guess we can say that Joe fulfilled his ambition.

Edgar Lavallee said he would be a little late for the dinner, since he is in the Coast Guard he hasn't much choice as to when he can come and go as he pleases. Ed has made a career out of the Coast Guard, and now holds the rank of Admiral.

Nancy Valati has just walked in and she looks just as radiant as ever. Our gal Nancy is employed as a stenographer at the New England Telephone Company. She was always up-to-par on her shorthand and now it's paying off.

Alice Laprade is now the head of her own dress shoppe, "Exclusives by Alice". She designs all the clothes that are sold in her shoppe. Her sketching ability has paid off for her. Alice also teaches students at the National School of Design in New York.

Sandra Sears is one of the top-notch models in the U.S. She is constantly being offered modeling jobs abroad. Sandy just came back from Paris where she was a model for a well-known fashion designer. Sandra's nice ways have made her well-known throughout the fashion centers of the world.

Lillian Deschamps has just arrived. Lil is now receptionist at the new and modern Fixum-Up-Good Hospital located in Bellingham. Lil is in charge of handling hospital files and telephone calls. She also acts as a secretary for any of the doctors. We all know that she is capable of handling such responsibilities.

The chief surgeon of the Fixum-Up-Good Hospital is none other than John "Snag" Callahan. As his laboratory technician, he has Shulla Palmer. With these two very fine people on the hospital staff, it is sure to be one of the best hospitals in the country.

Jan, have you visited that modern department store on Main Street? The buyer for the store is none other than our own Barbara Fontaine. Babs is always making trips to the chief cities of the country, inquiring about the newest and most modern ideas for the store.

George Nason has just walked in, and he has with him an edition of the Bellingham Reviewer. He has been recently promoted to editor-in-chief of the paper. He started as a copy-boy for another paper and now he owns his own. George just got the exclusive story on the case of "The Missing History Teacher". Great story, George!

Carlton Taft just made another home-run. This time the run was really homeward. He came home last night after one of the toughest baseball seasons ever. Right now Carlton is one of the outstanding players for '67. He led the Red Sox to an easy pennant victory this year, and he has been nominated for Baseball's Hall of Fame.

Well, Jan, don't you think that our class has done well in achieving fame? Each member of the class has become outstanding in his own right.

Yes, Pat, I think we have done a fine job, and I hope when we have our next class reunion ten years from now, we will have many more achievements to talk about.

Class Will

We, the class of 1957, being of sound mind? and body do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament.

To Mr. Rowe we leave our sincerest wishes for a speedy recovery.

To Mr. Collins we leave an efficient office worker who won't interrupt his Psychology lectures.

To Mr. Conlan we leave something special that is guaranteed to get the "knocks" out of his car. (a new car)

To Mrs. Kelley who thought that we were a very predictable class, we leave a bottle of smelling salts in case she has any more sudden shocks.

To Mr. Flynn we leave a book on "How to stay slim, trim and physically fit". His previous book is worn out from constant reference and use.

To Mr. Niedzwiadek we leave an alligator briefcase to match his alligator shoes. Then he can carry his throat lozenges, cough drops, and cold pills in it when he goes to Florida for a vacation.

To Mr. Keough we leave a lasso to catch all the pupils who straggle behind when the second bell rings.

To Miss Murphy we leave a padlock on the Shorthand Room door so she won't get interrupted during a five minute dictation.

To Miss O'Niel we leave a two-way radio for her car so that she'll know when there is no school. Remember the policeman Miss?

To Mr. Stevens we leave one gross of mousetraps for people who speak out of turn in his classroom.

To Mr. Trudeau we leave a bottle of "Nervine" for those terrible headaches he gets when taking out student drivers.

To Mr. Kellett we leave a bottle of "Senior Special Deodorizer" to use when experiments backfire in lab.

Shulla Palmer leaves her jitterbuggin' legs to Jean Dalpe. Make good use of them, Jean. Sorry I can't leave my partner too.

Nancy Valati leaves to Lolly Pierannunzi the ability to let her hair grow past her ears. Don't touch those scissors!

Class Will

Billy Maus leaves to Ralph Nason a large straw hat so that the strong sun won't get at his hair again this summer.

Janet Poirier leaves to Cynthia Haven her bookkeeping skill. With that she leaves a pocket-sized adding machine.

Leif Anderson leaves to Richard Sonier his track shoes. With them he will furnish five pair of inner soles.

Edgar Lavallee leaves to Roland Racine his manly voice and charm so that the girls will swoon when Roland is selected radio's top disc jockey during his Senior year.

Barbara Fontaine leaves her office position to Nancy Campanelli. With that goes a bottle of ink eradicator.

Bob Bernier leaves to Robert Conte five cakes of Fleishman's yeast so that he will grow to Bob's height.

Alice Laprade leaves a pad of late-slips to Pauline Gladu. Pauline can use them when her alarm clock fails her.

Willis Godin leaves his flashy yellow convertible to Barbara Houseman so that she won't have to ride her bike on the cold wintry days.

Madeleine Gauthier leaves her witty remarks to Clemence St. Germain so Clemence can baffle all new substitutes.

Carlton Taft leaves to Edward Sadowski his dancing shoes. We're sure Eddie can dance up a storm once he gets going.

Joan Marzetta leaves a rubber fender to all student drivers at B. H. S. We still need our telephone posts.

Pat Brunetti leaves her lady-like charm to Lorraine Guimelli. We're sure Lorraine will use it to the best advantage.

John Callahan leaves to Carlton Chilson his humor. With that he leaves a joke book entitled "Teachers are Funny".

Andree Lefebvre leaves her pony tail to Dot Lewinsky. We hope Dot will let hers down once in awhile.

Barbara Betsch leaves to any future Trig student a book entitled "How to do your Trig Homework in ten minutes".

Joe Gavasso leaves to all the Freshmen boys his manly physique. With that he leaves vitamins from A to Z.

Class Will

Helen Lanowy leaves her long hair to Norma Cook. With that she leaves a bottle of brown hair dye. You see, Norma is a blonde and Helen a brunette.

Moe Dalpe leaves a book entitled "How to Fly in Three Easy Lessons" to any underclassman who is for the birds.

George Nason leaves to Linda Guimelli his huge appetite. Linda will need all her vitamins for cheering.

Noella Renaud leaves to any girl who weights 150 lbs. or over her small and dainty figure. With that she leaves a book of tips on "How to Hook a Fellow Senior."

Lillian Deschamps leaves all her books, pencils, and school material to any future senior. Next year it will be wedding bells instead of school bells.

Lorraine Lizotte leaves her quietness in classes to anybody who may need it. With it she leaves a roll of adhesive tape to help carry out her will.

Georgette Trudeau leaves to Marcia Joseph a book entitled, "How to be an Old Maid". Of course neither one of them has ever read it.

Sandra Sears and Estelle Racine leave to Connie Trottier and Cynthia Haven the record, "Side by Side". Let's hope that they will stay together without having to be hand-cuffed.

Elaine Fagan leaves her simplicity in clothes to Barbara Glockner hoping she'll be able to carry this style to Florida.

Carol LaRose leaves to Eileen Levesque her footprints that lead the way to B.H.S. on snowy days. Let's hope that they wear the same size shoe.

Washington

April 22, 1957 is a day the class of 1957 will remember always. It was a beautiful Monday morning, just right for traveling. The place was Bellingham High School; the time 7:30 A.M.

We were all ready and waiting when Mr. Collins arrived, gave us our Arnold Tours baggage tickets and wished us a very happy trip. We all thanked him and boarded the bus with Miss Murphy and Miss O'Neil, our chaperones. Mr. Conlan would meet us in Providence.

When we arrived in Providence, there was Mr. Conlan, — ready and waiting. As we boarded the train we saw Blackstone and Medway High Schools.

The time was 9:00 A.M. and we were finally on our way to New York. We arrived in Grand Central Station around 12:00. What a busy station! Grand Central is a very appropriate name for it. Here we met our young and handsome tour guide Mr. Campbell.

We boarded a B.&O. bus, and then took a ferry to the New Jersey Shore. Most of us got out of the bus on the ferry. From there we got a glimpse of the Statue of Liberty.

In New Jersey we took a train directly to Washington D.C. Our first sight of Washington is something we will never forget. The sun was setting and the parks were very green and cool looking. At night we could see the Capitol all lit up; a beautiful sight to see.

After being assigned rooms, we freshened up and came down to dinner. A good meal it was too! Anything would have been delicious after that busy day.

This was a free night. Some of us stayed at the hotel to unpack, some just went walking.

The next day we were awakened at 6:00 A.M. and told that breakfast was soon being served. We all dressed and went to the dining room for a good breakfast of scrambled eggs and bacon.

After breakfast we boarded a bus that took us to the Bureau of Printing and Engraving. We had to wait outside in the rain but all was forgotten when we saw all that money. Our eyes almost popped when we saw that $100,000 bill in front of us!

Then to Arlington Cemetery for the changing of the Guard. This is one of the many events we will remember forever.

Next to Virginia where we saw Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington. The sun came out making the day more enjoyable.

We returned to the hotel where luncheon was provided. After luncheon we walked to the Congressional Library. Then we toured the Capitol. Unfortunately, neither the House or the Senate were in session.

At 5:30 we went back to the hotel for dinner. This was the meal Mr. Conlan had been waiting for since September. A sweet potato and ham covered with raisin sauce. Tasty wasn't it, Mr. Conlan?

This was a free night too. Some went swimming at the Ambassador Hotel, others for a boat ride, and still others to a movie.

The next morning we were awakened early, dressed and went down stairs to the dining room for a delicious meal of scrambled eggs. After breakfast we boarded a bus for Washington Monument. Most of us walked to the top. It was a pleasant little walk, only fifty flights of stairs.

Next we visited the Smithsonian Institute and to the Museum of Natural History. After a very interesting morning, we went to the Mellon Art Gallery where luncheon was served.

Later we visited the Washington Cathedral and the Franciscan Monastery. Most of us bought souvenirs for parents and friends.

In the evening we had a wonderful time dining and dancing at the Lotus Night Club. Here we saw a terrific floor show which included Tina Robin, a Coral recording star.

We all wondered where Mr. Conlan, Mr. Campbell, Miss O'neil and Miss Murphy got all that energy to dance. Mr. Campbell was even jitterbugging!

Thursday was the day we left beautiful, countrified Washington and headed for the Metropolis of the World, New York City.

We had breakfast at the hotel. Guess what? Scrambled Eggs!! After breakfast we boarded a bus and left for the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland. We visited the Museum, the Cadet's swimming pool, one of their rooms, the campus and the ballroom.

At noontime, luncheon was provided in Baltimore at the Oriole Restaurant. At 1:15 we boarded a B.&O. train for New York City; arriving at 5:30 P.M.

After being assigned rooms at the Bristol Hotel we went to dinner at Child's Restaurant on Times Square.

This was a free night for us to become acquainted with the city. Friday morning we got a break; we slept until 7:00 A.M. We hurried to breakfast at Child's and then left for Radio City Music Hall. Here we saw the movie "Funny Face" There was also an Easter show featuring the "Rockettes"

After having luncheon at Child's we visited the Empire State Building and its observatory. On the top, the class picture was taken.

Most of the afternoon was free. Some of us went shopping and others went back to the hotel to get some rest and to freshen up for a big night at the Village Barn in Greenwich Village. Here dinner, dancing and a floor show were provided.

It seems as if we just got here and it's time to leave. Saturday was a beautiful day for a yacht trip. Imagine a three hour rest around Manhattan Island! We all look like travelers sun tanned and wind burned. After the yacht trip we had luncheon at Child's. At the hotel we packed our baggage; plus souvenirs, and took a taxi to Grand Central Station.

Our vacation had ended. We arrived at the Assumption Church parking lot at 9:15 where our parents and friends greeted us.

Now that the trip is just a pleasant memory, the hard work seems like nothing. We were more than paid off in good enjoyment and memories which we will remember forever.

JUNIORS

Junior Class

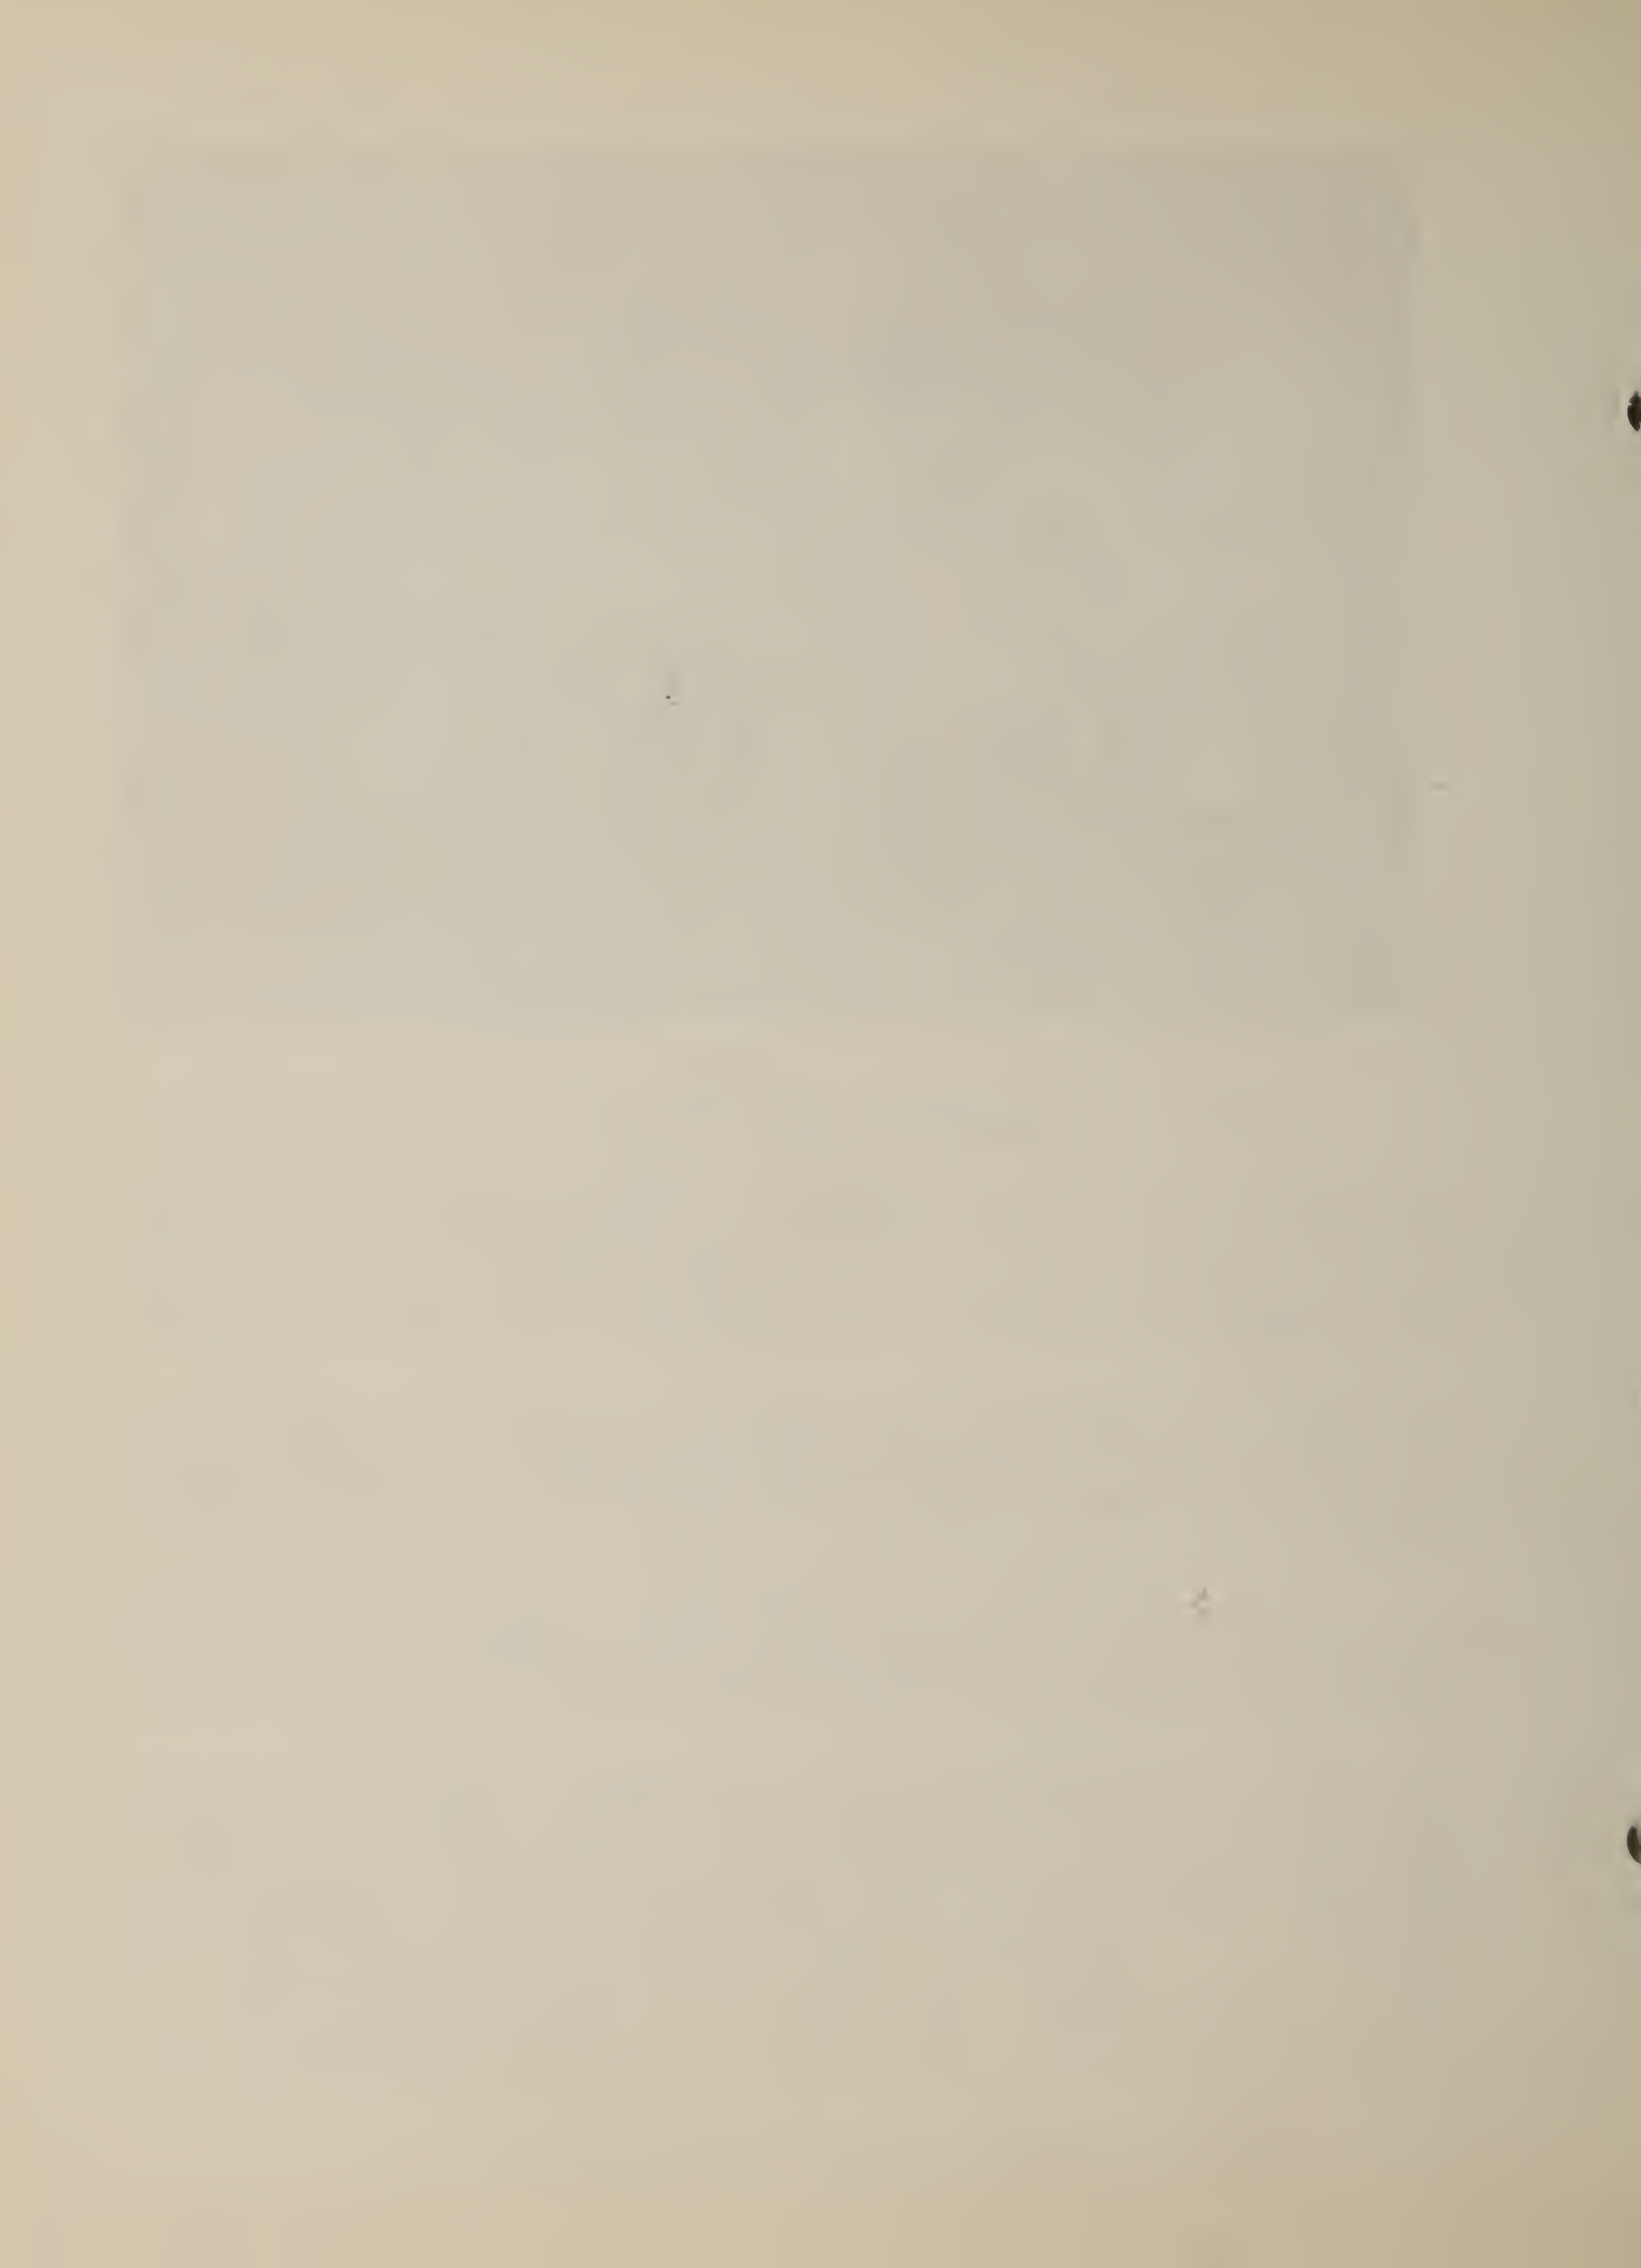

In September of 1954 we entered the high school as Freshmen. Our first major event, initiation by the Senior Class, was quite an experience. We were well rewarded, however, that same night when we were their guests at the Freshmen Acquaintance Dance.

Our next big event was our Valentine Dance. We made a few mistakes, but everything turned out well. It also started our treasury growing for the Washington Trip, a goal yet to attain.

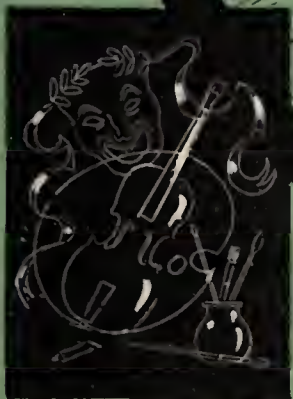

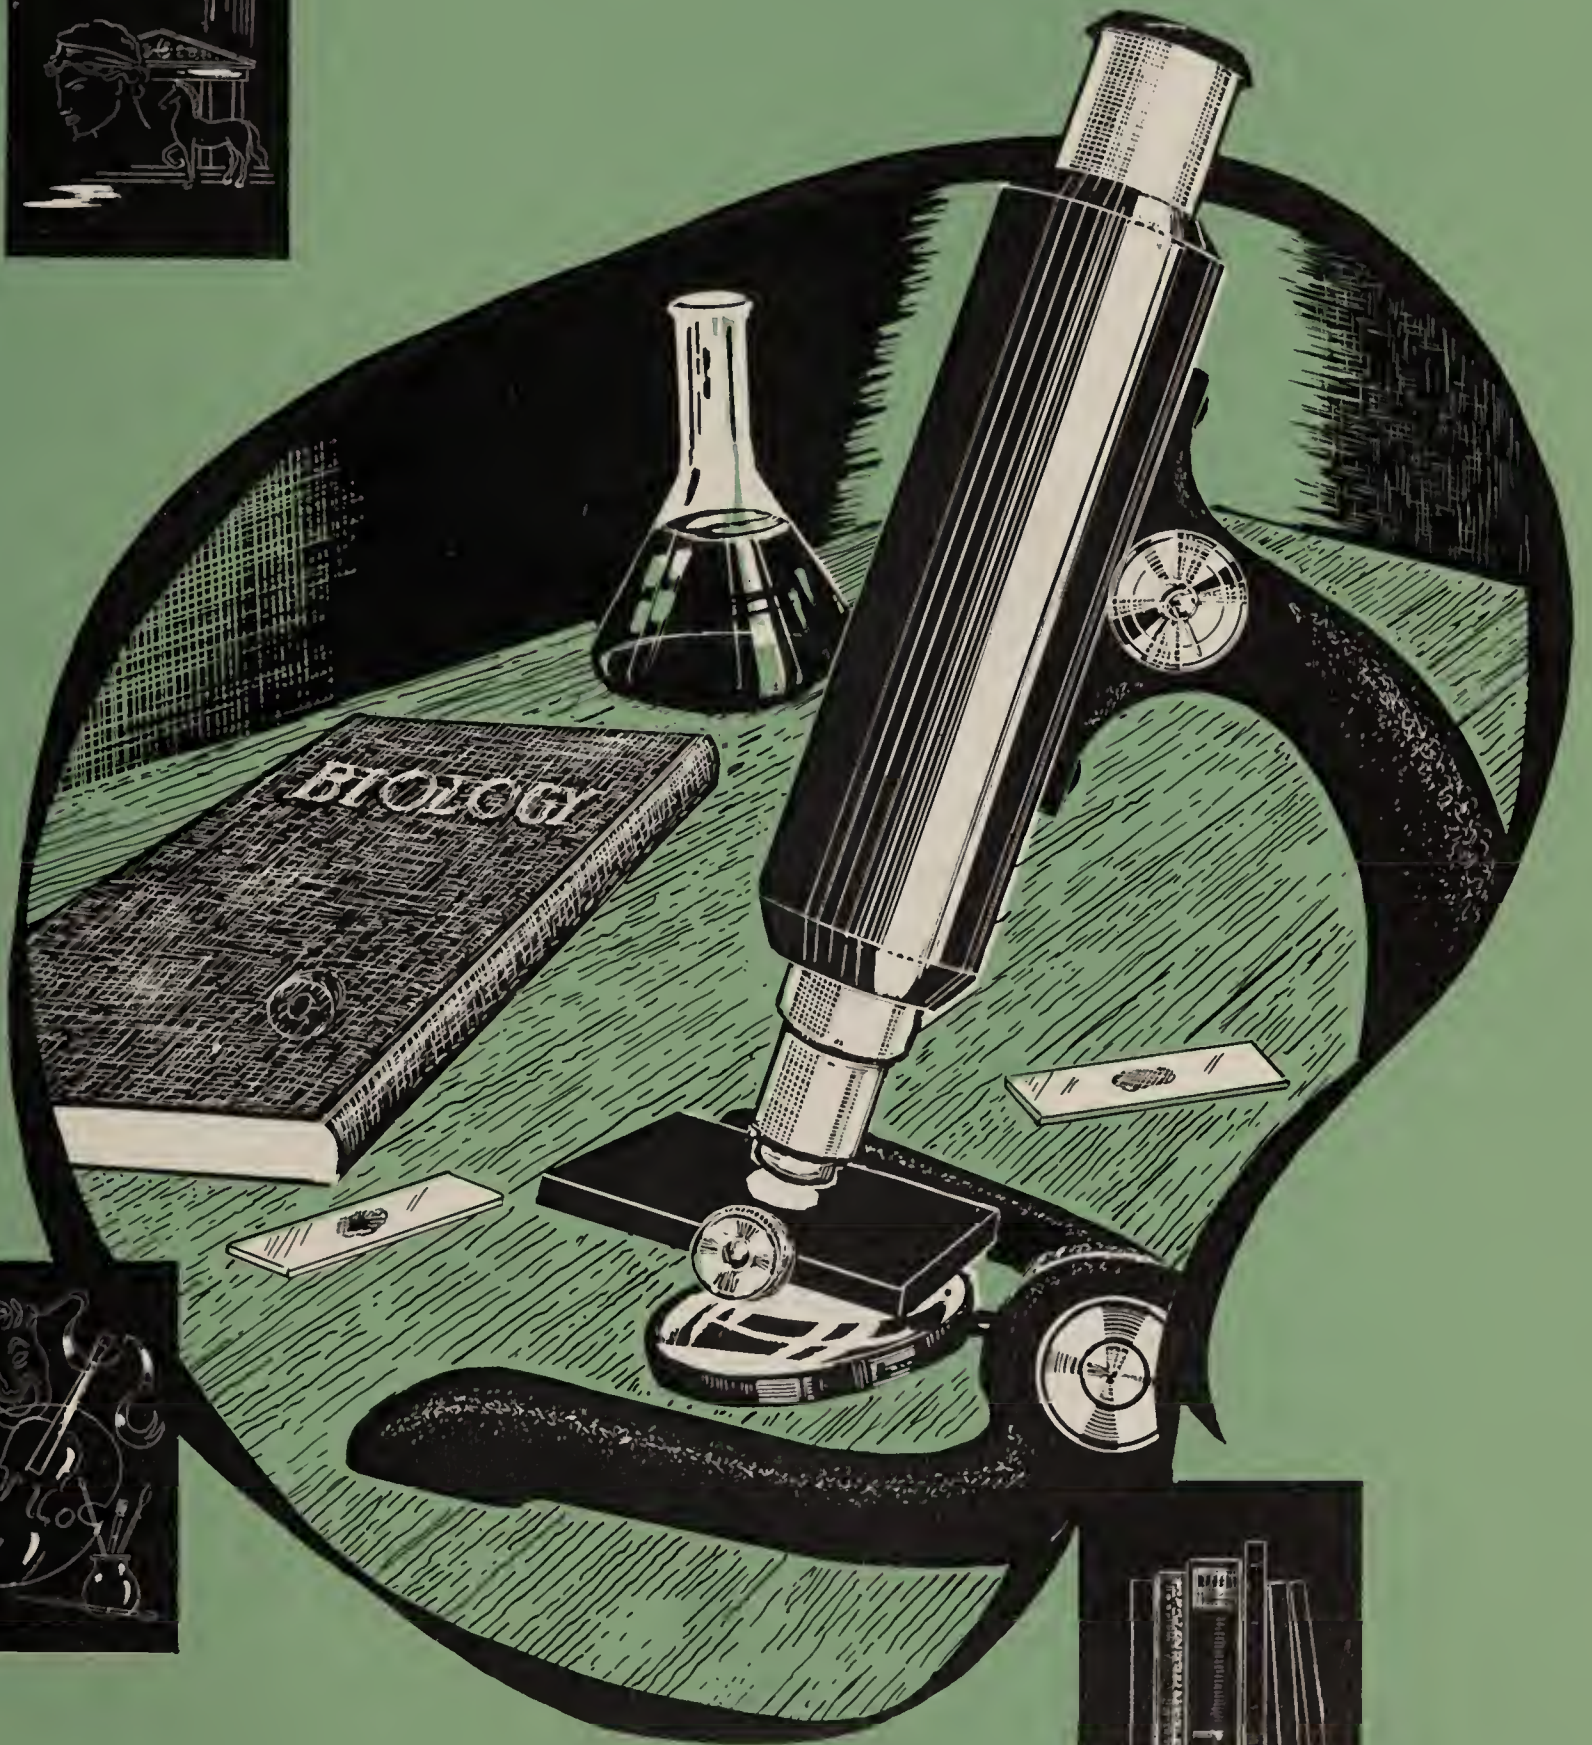

The Thanksgiving Dance, which proved to be a great success, was a highlight of our Sophomore year. We held our Sophomore Banquet at the Embassy Club in Woonsocket. A wonderful evening was had by all.

Now our Junior year has come to a close. Three happy years have sped by with the happiest year yet to come. This past year we sponsored two main events, The Thanksgiving Dance and the Junior Prom. The Thanksgiving Dance boosted our treasury to a new high. Our Junior Prom followed the theme of the song "Almost Paradise". We owe thanks for our success to our faithful class advisors: Mr. Conlan, as Freshmen; Mr. Kellett, as Sophomores; Mr. Kellett and Miss O'neil as Juniors.

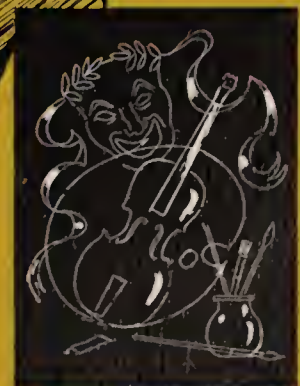

To the departing Senior Class, "Good Luck".

The "56 - 57" Blackhawks, although having a green ball club, surprised everyone by ending the season with a 16 win 6 loss record. The Dennis W. Howard Memorial Trophy was regained by defeating Franklin 2 out of 3 games. The Hawks finished second in the "Dual County League". Ted Graves became Bellingham's highest scorer for a single game when he scored 35 points. With only one senior on the first five graduating, the Hawks have a bright future ahead of them.

Champions

The 1956 Bellingham High Cross-Country team, led by Captain Leif Anderson became the first team in Bellingham's history to finish with a perfect record. The Hawks won 11 and lost 0 in league competition. The three championships that the Hawks now hold are -1- Class D State Championship -2- The South Central Massachusetts Cross-Country League -3- Knights of Columbus Marathon. With only three of the top ten graduating, Coach Frank Flynn should enjoy another very successful season next year.
